CONNECTING WITH OUR
GLOBAL ALUMNI NETWORK
WELCOME FROM THE DEAN

PROFESSOR WENDY LORETTO

Congratulations on your recent graduation and a very warm welcome to the Business School’s thriving global alumni network, linking almost 15,000 alumni in over 120 countries worldwide.

We hope that you have enjoyed your time at the Business School and are looking forward to using the experience and knowledge you have acquired to progress your career.

As a member of the network, this guide shows you how to access a range of exclusive alumni benefits which are designed to provide support and personal development to you throughout your professional life.

By fully engaging with the network, you can make meaningful connections with alumni across the world, further your career, and continue to engage with the Business School.

Four steps to get the most out of the network...
UPDATE
YOUR DETAILS

To ensure you can access the full range of alumni benefits, and receive news updates relating to your location, sector and career stage, keep us updated on your contact details and career information through our alumni website.

The Business School keeps in touch through regular e-newsletters which bring you up to speed on the latest CPD benefits, events in your area, how to gain the most out of the network, and how you can remain engaged with the School.

Our annual alumni magazine, Aluminate, features industry insights, research updates and articles driven by the lives and experiences of our alumni so we welcome your involvement.
Be the first to hear about new benefits by keeping us updated on your contact details.
There are many ways for you to connect with others across the global alumni network, both through our exclusive alumni social media channels, and face to face at events.

Through social media

At alumni events

The Business School hosts alumni events around the world to help you stay connected and make new contacts. Details of forthcoming events are detailed on our website.

We also have a global network of well-established alumni groups and key alumni contacts, who organise their own networking and social events.

Contact the Alumni Team to find out more about activity in your area.

BENEFIT FROM CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Our commitment to supporting you in your career goals does not end at graduation.

Continued access to the Careers Service

The University of Edinburgh Careers Service offers support for up to two years after graduation. This includes careers information and guidance, either in person or by Skype/phone. You can also access many of the Careers Service and employer events in Edinburgh, online advice on CVs, selection tests and interviews, as well as access to the University’s job and employer database, MyCareerHub.

Visit www.business-school.ed.ac.uk/alumni to find out more
Dedicated support from the School

The Business School offers personalised career and professional development support for MBA and MSc graduates, for up to three years after graduation. Initial consultations are free, however there may be a charge for more in-depth career support and diagnostic tools. Contact the Alumni Team for more information.

Access to digital resources and journals

As a Business School graduate, you continue to have free access to a suite of digital resources and journals designed to deliver lifelong value and support to you in your career. This includes full-text business magazines, industry reports and online journals as well as online lectures and seminars by leading thinkers and authorities from around the globe.
Additional Business School benefits

Other benefits include discounts on executive education including masterclasses and customised programmes, online learning and reduced rates for Business School facilities. For full details, visit our website.

University-wide alumni benefits

In addition to the above, the University provides a wide range of alumni benefits and services including tuition fee discounts and special rates for gym membership and library access.
The School is always happy to welcome alumni back to Edinburgh to celebrate a special reunion or anniversary.
Keep involved with the school

There are lots of ways in which you can continue to engage with the School:

Start or join an alumni group

We have a network of groups and contacts around the world. If you are interested in getting involved with an existing group or starting one in your area, please contact the Alumni Team.

Host an event or reunion

The Business School is always happy to welcome alumni back to Edinburgh to celebrate a special reunion or anniversary. We can help to promote your event and discuss hospitality provision at the School. Contact the Alumni Team to discuss further.
Promote the School to prospective students

Our alumni regularly offer guidance, support and advice to prospective students and assist us at open days and fairs. Contact the Alumni Team to offer support.

Return as a guest speaker

Share your insights and opinions by returning as a guest speaker at the Business School. Whether you are a recent graduate sharing your thoughts on studying with new students, or an experienced professional speaking on behalf of your company, you will benefit from the opportunity to share ideas with an international audience.

“Knowing that I may have influenced the decisions of prospective students at a fair makes me feel very proud”

Shelly-Ann Gajadjar MSc 2015
Host student projects

If you and/or your organisation are looking to commission a piece of specialist research or consultancy, the Business School can help by matching you with one or more of our high-calibre students. Visit our website for further information.

Contribute to the reputation of the School

The feedback we gain from alumni allows us to shape what we do as a school, ensuring our students, future students and alumni all benefit from our standing and reputation nationally and internationally. From time to time, we may solicit your views in order to enhance our services. In addition, a number of our programmes are ranked by publications such as the Financial Times. As a critical part of our success is involvement from alumni, please keep us updated on your contact details so you can be involved.
Visit www.business-school.ed.ac.uk/alumni to find out more.

Build lifelong professional connections by engaging with fellow alumni on a regular basis.
